What does a new home mean to you?

We are all unique, with ever-changing needs and different visions of the home in which we would like to live.

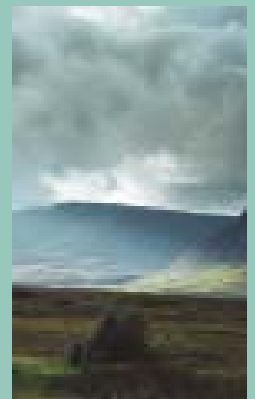

For some it will be a sanctuary, for others a family and social centre, or even possibly a place in which to work. Regardless of your own dream, home is one thing above all else, it is the focus of our lives, our stability.

Rarely will you have to make a decision as important in life as to which home you would choose to live in. Perfection, or a vision of what could be, is uppermost in all our minds.

Who is The County Homesearch Company?

Established in 1988, The County Homesearch Company is the leading independent property homefinder in the UK. With our network of offices throughout the UK - in combination with an ever-expanding group of overseas offices covering Ireland, France, Spain, The Balearics, Malta and South Africa - our service not only helps you locate the perfect home but ensures that the relevant support is available to help you settle in. We are the only company of our type to be awarded the ISO9001 certificate for high quality management practices. We are entirely independent and represent only property buyers or tenants.

How do you feel about the prospect of finding your new home?

Finding your perfect home is our passion!

With so many questions, so few answers and so little time, the prospect of finding and moving into a new home is more than just a challenge, it can be daunting.

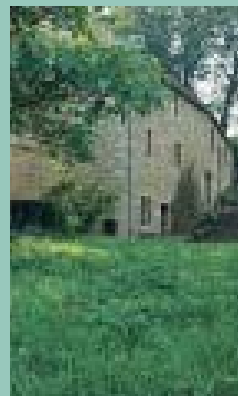

The desire to see properties before other potential buyers, the fear of being beaten at the post and the need to be in several places at once can all take their toll.

Regardless of how many past moves you have made, the journey you are about to embark on can be frustrating and generally disruptive on the rest of your life. It helps to have some additional expertise on your side.

What does County Homesearch do?

We offer comprehensive property finding services for clients moving or relocating in the UK and overseas. We use our local expertise and contacts to uncover properties of genuine interest. We often see properties before others get to hear of them. We provide illustrated information of all our findings and recommendations on particular properties. After finding your new home to purchase or rent, we will continue to help by recommending any other relevant professionals who can make your move a success. Our expertise is available on all aspects of negotiation for properties.

Why use a homefinding service?

Time is more than money, it is invaluable.

Appointing a homefinder gives you the chance to lead a normal life, free of the distraction of assessing a vast number of properties, most of which will be of no real interest.

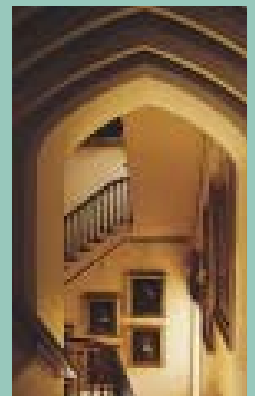

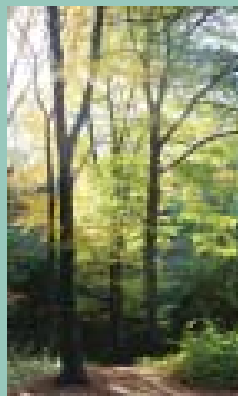

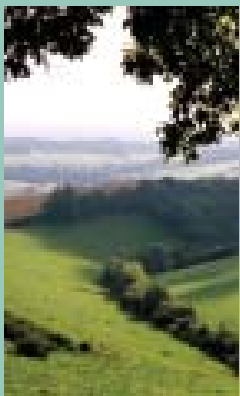

A high quality homefinder will give you a combination of informed guidance and local, inside information that can lead you towards some outstanding properties.

Working diligently on your behalf, we pride ourselves on being able to translate your wishes into reality and then supporting you at every stage of your move, to ensure that the entire process is one that you will look back on with pleasure and satisfaction.

How can County Homesearch help you?

We go to great lengths to discover your real needs, desires and aspirations. Once we have a very clear picture in our minds of what you require, we use both traditional and creative methods of finding your new home. We have well-established local and national networks and the ability to view properties quickly and thoroughly. This expertise will save you from viewing houses that sound good on paper but in reality are not suitable. We are able to uncover important aspects of a proposed purchase, such as planning details, that might otherwise remain undiscovered.

Why is County Homesearch the right choice for you?

A personal consultant looking after your interests.

We have a passion for property. There is nothing quite like the day when our client sees, for the first time, the home of their dreams. It is a magical moment that drives us forward in our quest to further establish ourselves as Britain's leading independent homefinding company.

Today, that drive has created a range of services that meet the needs of our clients, wherever their search, whatever the style, size and age of property required.

But what we really provide is a great deal more fundamental than that: it is a quality of life, a certain peace of mind and the knowledge that you have made the right choice.

What are the benefits of working with County Homesearch?

We know how to find the best homes. We can use our knowledge of a region to ensure that you do not pay too much for the home you wish to buy. If your interest lies in one single property rather than a wide search, our Preview Service is the ideal way to learn more about it. Our Transaction Tracker Service allows you to follow the progress of your homesearch through dedicated space on our web site.

Your next move...

We would be delighted to discuss your proposed move with you in further detail and, whenever possible, we encourage a meeting to take place without any further obligation on your part.

Alternatively, you might like to complete the enclosed questionnaire and return it, together with the registration fee, and we will start our search without further delay.

In all circumstances we pay the strictest respect and attention to client confidentiality.
